Augustus C. Tyler Camp, S. W. V., to be inspected on Wednesday Evening.
Augustus C. Tyler camp, No. 3, United Spanish War Veterans, is planning a social hour and smoker for next Wednesday evening. Commander McNamara has received notice that the camp will be inspected at that time by Comrade D. Chapin, Eureka camp, No. 4, of Hartford, who has been detailed by Dept. Commander G. F. Gammons as the official inspector.

The department encampment for 1930 is to be held in this city and some of the preliminary details are to be discussed at the meeting. One or more new comrades are also to be mustered into the camp at the same time.

Guy B. Richmond Elected Manager.
The Windham high school athletic association held a meeting Thursday afternoon and elected Guy B. Richmond manager of the baseball team for the season of 1930. Manager Richmond is to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Connecticut Inter-scholastic Baseball association that is called for New Haven Saturday.

Rehearsing for Carnival.
The Glee club has fixed the dates for their carnival in January. Rehearsals of one or more parts are held nightly in the parlors of the First Congregational church and the members are taking hold with a vim. Prof. Sam Johnson is directing the affair.

Funeral of Leander L. Lyon.
The funeral of Leander L. Lyon was held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock from his late residence at Mansfield Four Corners. Rev. O. D. Fisher of Storrs was the officiating clergyman. The bearers were Eugene Haskell, John Houston, A. H. Robbins and Charles Rosebrooks. The body was taken to Storrs where burial took place. Funeral Director H. N. Fenn of this city was in charge.

Hall for Polish People.
The Polish people of this city, who now number about 700 souls, will have a hall for their own use for entertainment purposes and other social functions by Christmas time. A wealthy Polish woman from Boston has erected a two-story building on Elm street, the portion of the city generally known as Sodom. The lower floor will be used for a bakery and the second floor is being fitted up for a nice hall for society meetings, dances and all similar functions. This will fill a long felt want and will be a stepping stone to more and better organization among the Polish speaking people of the community.

School 'Bus Matter Settled.
The town school committee was in session long enough Wednesday evening at its regular monthly meeting in the bank building to transact a large amount of business, but as far as can be learned it did not do very much. The entire committee was present except George K. Anderson and A. N. Colgrove, the latter being confined to his home by illness. Besides the disposition of routine business the transportation question with reference to a seven year old daughter of Samuel Chappell, Jr., who lives on the back road to North Windham, was discussed. Mr. Chappell appearing in person before the committee. It seems that the 'bus that conveys the child to the school does not go within 25 rods of Mr. Chappell's house, but passes irregularly at the corner, and thus the little child of seven has to stand around and wait an uncertain length of time in all sorts of weather. Mr. Chappell requests that the 'bus come to his home for his daughter, but the committee voted to have the 'bus stop at the corner as heretofore. Mr. Chappell will take the matter to the state board of education. There is no school near where he lives and at present the girl has to walk more than three-quarters of a mile to catch the 'bus, and then ride about three miles more. The committee then went into executive session and would not divulge what took place therein.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN At Last Meeting Thursday Evening Complete Business of Fiscal Year.

At the special meeting of the board of aldermen, the last of the fiscal year, with a full attendance, Thursday evening, the business of the current fiscal year was completed. George R. Cracken appeared in behalf of the Windham Manufacturing company and offered a resolution requesting permission for the company to lay a water main across Bridge street connecting both of their plants as an easement with insurance requirements. The resolution was adopted and approved by the mayor. Alderman Dawson, as chairman of the sewer committee recommended that a sewer be constructed in Main street, west from Windham, and in Schoolhouse lane, also at the Oak school. The committee report of the cost of sewers on various streets was accepted.

The claims committee reported it had investigated the sidewalk on Maple avenue and was of the opinion that same was reasonably good. Photographs of the alleged spot where an injury was sustained by Miss M. J. O'Neil were submitted and the committee recommended that the matter be left to the incoming board, that a hearing be given Miss O'Neil as soon as possible.

A report on the ordinance governing the erection of buildings in the fire district was made, with the recommendation that a substitute ordinance be adopted restricting the duties of the inspector of buildings in a marked degree, and same was adopted. Alderman W. A. Dawson said that a good deal of talk had been made about the fight among members of the board for the past two years, and that much criticism had been made of the manner in which things had been transacted. He said that he himself believed the meetings had been harmonious, and that he would therefore move that the board accord the mayor, the corporation counsel and the city clerk a vote of thanks for their forbearance and courtesy during the past two years. The motion was carried. Mayor Dunn thanked the members of the board, and said he hoped the best of feeling would continue among the members and all those who had any connection with the council. Adjournment was then taken.

San Jose Council Elected Officers.

JEWETT CITY

Men's Bible Class and Guests Addressed by Rev. C. R. McNally—Congregational Aid Society's Fair Nets $157.

The young men's Bible class of the Baptist Sunday school observed ladies' night on Thursday evening with a social gathering in the vestry. A large number was present and enjoyed the duet, 'The Beautiful City,' sung by Miss Ward and Miss George H. Prior. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Charles R. McNally, M. A., R. R., of New London. His subject was 'The Church and the Modern Man.' He said in part:

Our subject requires two definitions: What is the modern man and what is the church? It has two sides to it. What is the modern man? He is the modern man and what must be the relation of the modern man to the church?

Empires have come and gone. Whole races have come upon the stage of human action and have passed into oblivion. The church lives on. The church is the biggest thing in the world, because it is concerned with the deepest impulses of the soul of man, that which is most abiding in the life of humanity. The spirit of modern life must be felt in the church because no age has or can live without reckoning with the verities of religion. These verities do not change, but every age must construe them in the terms of its own life. It is sometimes said that the church has lost its meaning for the 20th century man, but a statement more untrue was never uttered. Man cannot outgrow his need of God. Human experience teaches more clearly than ever the reality of the laws of righteousness. Man lives in the hope of the reality of the immortality the same today as when Plato reasoned of it. The doctrine of the church of yesterday is giving way to the more reasonable method of weighing truth upon the scales of individual experience. Mathematical demonstration of spiritual realities is no longer looked for or thought to be necessary. The method of theology does not differ from that of science. Do we speak of the reality of God or of the immortality of the soul? We now realize the ultimate value of indirect cumulative evidence. The church today stands on firmer ground than ever. She is still the minister to man in the deep things of life and of destiny. More and more she is turning her face to the light of the modern spirit and modern method. She satisfies the whole nature of man as she has never done before.

The modern man must be honest in his thinking, not befogged or befuddled by the dying dust in the workshop of truth. Eager to know the truth, he is honest in his acceptance of it. No man so has caught the spirit of the day can fail to be, not only a friend, but a living, vital factor in those institutions of religion which leave the world with the spirit and the life of God. Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Ida Foster, Mrs. R. W. Dearnley, Miss Mary M. Brown, Miss Alice Brown and Miss Alice M. Broome. The A. F. class waiting upon the guests. The teacher of the class is Deacon J. E. Phillips, and the president is Arthur M. Brown. The evening's entertainment was arranged by the social committee, A. M. Clarke.

George H. Prior, Francis Campbell, O. F. Miller and William Johnstons.
